

26 November 2009: Torben Ørntoft joins the Scientific Advisory Board

CPR is pleased to announce that Prof. Torben Falck Ørntoft MD, PhD, Head of Department of Molecular Medicine, Aarhus University Hospital at Skejby, Denmark, has accepted to join the Scientific Advisory Board. Prof. Ørntoft is active in the field of molecular alterations in cancer diseases. His work has focused primarily on bladder, prostate and intestinal cancer and he has been a pioneer in using microarrays to identify molecular biomarkers for clinical use in disease classification and prediction. Prof. Ørntoft will add great value to the work of the Scientific Advisory Board. For more information regarding Prof. Ørntoft's research please see: www.mdl.dk